EMBLEM

With many arms reaching around the globe, the grey Kraken represents the responsibility to provide support in many different forms to world-wide cyber operations. The blue background represents the nebulous realm of cyberspace that touches our everyday lives. Grasping a lightning bolt in each hand, the Kraken is intertwined in the operations of the two cyberspace operations groups that were present at its inception. The blue globe shows no land masses as cyberspace is everywhere and anywhere while the red lines of latitude and longitude represent the enemy's presence within the cyberspace domain while the Kraken's tentacles present global friendly cyberspace reach capability wherever it may be needed.
