OPERATIONS

10th Bombardment Maintenance Squadron (Very Heavy) supported the 769th Bombardment Squadron (Very Heavy)

On 12 October, the long awaited and much discussed reorganization of the 462nd Bomb Group took place. Bombardment Maintenance Squadrons were combined into Bombardment Squadrons containing both air and ground echelons. In this group the 9th, 10th, 11th and 12th Bombardment Maintenance Squadrons were combined with the 768th, 769th, 770th and 771st Bombardment Squadrons respectively.

The reorganization was carried out on paper with no interruptions in daily operations and training schedules. All squadrons are considerably over strength in personnel though some Officers and Enlisted Men are being carried as overages.
