OPERATIONS

the 3235th Drone Squadron doing guided missiles work at Point Mugu, California, handle the command's major commitments away from home.

United States Navy requirements for Air Force drones led to the activation of Drone Detachment No. 2 at Point Mugu, California, Naval Air Missile Test Center. This unit is now the 3235th Drone Squadron and operates from two additional sites in furnishing target support in the development of the Navy's guided missile program.
