On a disc per pale Azure and Celeste, in chief a demi-sun in splendor Or and in dexter a half moon Argent, overall a pyramid counterchanged of the field, base and motar Gules, emitting from sinister two deltas arching to dexter of the fourth and Silver Gray, contrails of the third, fimbriated of the fifth; all within a narrow Blue border. Below the disc, a White scroll edged with a narrow Blue border and inscribed "92D FORCE SUPPORT SQ" in Blue letters. SIGNIFICANCE: Ultramarine blue and Air Force yellow are the Air Force colors. Blue alludes to the sky, the primary theater of Air Force operations. Yellow refers to the sun and the excellence required of Air Force personnel. The divided background and the sun and crescent moon signify the Squadron's 24-hour support mission. The pyramid represents the many layers of the Wing, all working together to support the Wing's refueling mission, while the cinder blocks at the base of the pyramid represent the functions of the unit and the foundational support they provide to the parent organization. The delta flight symbols represent the refueling mission supported by the Squadron. (Approved, 7 Apr 2009)
