NICKNAME

OPERATIONS

The 163rd Medical Group participated in numerous missions and exercises, including a Medical Readiness Training Exercise that brought relief to 6,000 Guatemalan citizens. In addition, the unit trained with its Army National Guard counterparts during a Chemical, Biological, Radiological, and Nuclear Explosive Enhanced Response Force Package exercise, which validated the group as mission-ready and bolstered both services' abilities to respond to hazardous material incidents. Additionally, 2008 saw Airmen deployed to locations throughout southwest Asia, providing care to service members engaged in overseas operations.
